

AFCEA UK West Chapter Meeting

Whispering in Dark Corners

Michael Soderberg MBCS

Thursday 9th September 2010

Presentation Details:

A behind the scenes look at how secure products and services are brought to market and the challenges facing industry in delivering a sovereign capability.

Speaker Details:

A former RN Submariner and communications engineer by training, Michael has spent much of his career managing the behind the scenes delivery of cutting edge technology into highly secure systems for both government and commercial markets. Michael's experience covers the management of secure product suppliers into the UK defence industry and the development of the global market for UK cryptographic products. He was the primary author of the IACG Industry Response to the UK Government National Information Assurance Strategy, and lists drinking vodka on an operational Kilo submarine as one of his career highlights.
